

Communion Prayer

Submitted by Scott Taylor

God, as the children showed us this morning, sometimes the best we can do is pray. We gather around this table and it says on the table, "This do in remembrance of me." So we do remember.

We remember that you broke the bread for everyone at the table, even Judas. You broke the bread with women. You drank the cup with tax collectors. You met with those the 'good people' called sinners! What're you doing with them?

That's the table that we want to be around. That's the table we remember.

Thank you, God, thank you. Amen.
